

Viet Cong Soldier Converted

SAIGON—A member of the Viet Cong was converted to New Testament Christianity as a Vietnamese Christian explained the gospel to him even while the ground shook with an air strike, according to missionary Wayne Briggs.

"The Vietnamese Christian told him about the revolution that Christ had taught his disciples," Briggs said. "He explained about the suffering of Jesus Christ and how God loved him and sent his Son to die in his stead."

As soon as conditions were safe enough to leave the area, the young soldier was baptized.

"The location and names of the individuals must be omitted to protect their lives," Briggs said.
