Each day the luncheon period will feature some interesting aspect of the work of the church.

The luncheon programs will be conducted informally by President Lucien Palmer and will be designed for easy listening and participation as guests lunch and visit together.

The 2 p.m. Panel Discussions each day promise to be one of the most interesting activities of the Lectureship. Dan H. Woodroof, Minister of the Rochester church and Director of Public Relations

SIGNS OF PROGRESS

The picture at top (1) shows the land area adjacent the present MCC campus before the Ladies Associates approved a $7,000 Athletic project.

The picture below shows the same land area after earth movers and bull dozers worked it over in preparation for a football, baseball, and track field.

Another part of the development in MCC's expansion in collegiate sports is not shown here. Just west of the newly developed land, two tennis courts are under construction and will be completed for use this month. Provisions are being made for another double court in the near future.

They will be designed with curbs and drains, which can be plugged, to create iceskating rinks in the winter time.
