Bookstore Expands Facilities and Service

Increases Merchandise

The College Bookstore is a popular place for students, faculty, and "off-campus" friends to visit. The new student at MCC is especially grateful for the friendly convenience of this important facility on the campus.

Last month's issue of THE BULLETIN announced the appointment of Mr. Earl R. Davis as the new College Bookstore Manager replacing Mr. A. R. McCoy who is enjoying a degree of retirement. The store has enjoyed a steady growth under Mr. McCoy's leadership during the last seven years.

With new, larger facilities and with a correspondingly larger selection of merchandise, the bookstore under the management of Mr. Davis now offers greater service to its customers.

PROFITS GO TO CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

The profits of the store since its beginning in 1959 have all been put back into the store to increase its ability to serve the student body and the public.

In time, however, (and it should be soon) the college itself will begin to receive financial grants from the bookstore operation. Those, therefore, who purchase from the campus bookstore not only receive top quality merchandise, but are contributing to Christian education.

SPECIAL REMINDER TO BIBLE SCHOOL DIRECTORS

Order your Bible School material now to insure the best service on your order for the Spring Quarter's supplies.

Professor Davis, as Bookstore Manager, assists Quinn Randolph of E. Detroit and Carol Fowler of Flint, Michigan in finding the desired published material. David Case of Birmingham "browses" in the background.

Woodroof Accepts Student Life Post

Dan H. Woodroof

Effective January 1, 1967, Dan H. Woodroof became the Director of Student Life at Michigan Christian College. In this position he will have the responsibility of the non-academic affairs of the college that relate particularly to student life. He will fill the vacancy left by Clyde Balderson, Jr., who resigned as Dean of Students in the summer of 1966.

Brother Woodroof will be responsible for planning and executing various on-campus student activities such as banquets, outings, and programs of various kinds. Most non-academic counselling of students will be handled by his office. He will also serve as chairman or emcee of Chapel exercises each day. As Director of Student Life on campus, he will also maintain a closer relationship with MCC Alumni as Director of Alumni Relations.

Since 1963, Brother Woodroof has served the college in the Public Relations Department and will continue, as Director of Public Relations, to edit Administrative and Student publications, design and process all printed brochures, and disseminate information about the college by way of news releases and announcements.

He is an alumnus of David Lipscomb College and married to the former Jane Harris of Nashville, Tennessee. They have four children at home: Robert (16), Danny (10), Laura (9) and Susan (3). Their oldest daughter, Mrs. Sandra Milholland, lives in Dallas, Texas. Her husband, Tom Milholland is one of the ministers of the Skillman Ave. Church of Christ. They have one other "daughter", Janet McCloud, who came to live with the Woodroofs when she was a student at MCC. She is now a senior at Harding College majoring in elementary education.

Men's Club Smorgasbord A Success

The Annual Men's Club Smorgasbord in December was a resounding success as the Club cleared approximately $400 on the project.

Many projects on campus are undertaken by the Men's Club in providing MCC with needed equipment and families. Recent contributions include individual student and staff mailboxes, maintenance and cafeteria equipment, and a sizeable contribution toward the college debt retirement.

The Men's Club is growing in ability to help MCC in so many fine ways.

MCC Alumni Among Outstanding American Women

Michigan Christian College, with six graduating classes in her eighth year history, is already able to see and appreciate the accomplishments of its alumni.

In a letter from the editors of OUTSTANDING YOUNG WOMEN OF AMERICA, the college has been advised that six MCC Alumni are named among those chosen for inclusion in the 1966 edition of that annual publication.

Those selected were Mrs. Dona Mai (Bruce) Blake (X61), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar R. Bruce of Bad Axe, Michigan. Dona Mai, with her husband, is a missionary in Saigon, Vietnam.

Miss Betty Jean Klatt, (X63), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Klatt of Akron, Michigan. Betty is doing social work in Somerville, N.J.

Mrs. Mary Lois (Branstetter) Moore, (X62), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Branstetter of Jamestown, Indiana. Mary Lois is a mother and minister's wife in Lansing, Illinois. Her husband, Dean, (X61), is also an Alumni.

Mrs. Dwinnna (Howard) Walker, (X61), now living in Mississippi with her insurance executive husband, Jim Walker, also an alumnus of MCC (X61). She is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. P. H. Howard of Ferndale, Michigan.

Mrs. Sue (Gentry) Wasson, (X62), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Gentry of Royal Oak, Michigan. Sue now lives in Needles, California.

gan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Work of Trenton.

These women were selected by the Board of Advisory Editors for their outstanding civic, professional, and religious endeavors. OUTSTANDING YOUNG WOMEN OF AMERICA is an annual biographical compilation of 6,000 outstanding young women between the ages of 21 and 35.

Mrs. Lydon B. Johnson, Honorary Chairman of the Board has said the book is especially meaningful to her because the achievements and abilities of women is a subject close to her heart.

United States Senator Margaret Chase Smith, in her introductory message for the 1965 edition said, "This book calls attention to the great capabilities of our young women and their ability to get things done.

Miss Eva Adams, Director of the United States Mint, says the women included in the 1966 edition "are marked for recognition because they shunned mediocrity."

Guidelines for selection include unselfish service to others, charitable activities, community service, professional excellence, business advancement, and civic and professional recognition.

Dan H. Woodroof, recently appointed Director of Alumni Relations for MCC, said "This is a distinct honor for these young women and a credit to Michigan Christian College. The Board of Directors, Administration, Faculty and Staff join me in expressing appreciation to these who have so distinguished themselves in various ways through service to others."

Fine Arts Receive Gifts and Recognition

Mrs. Mildred Freeland, Ladies Associates President, looks over the installation with justifiable pride.

The artist, Richard Hackett, with the entertainer, Pat Boone. Boone has just selected a concaved painting for his own art collection.

Music Department NEW LISTENING EQUIPMENT

Among the many wonderful and useful gifts to MCC from the Ladies Associates is the new recording and listening equipment recently installed in the Music Department.

It will be used to great advantage as an academic aid in Music Appreciation, Music Theory, Church Music, and in private voice and piano courses. The equipment, including four new tape recorders, will assist Mr. Downey, the Director of the A Cappella Chorus, in developing the chorus by simultaneous sectional rehearsals.

In describing the use of the equipment, Mr. Downey said that it will greatly increase the repertory of the chorus and that the number of works listened to and learned through the new devices will far exceed what the students are able to do without it.

Most of the work, including the re-

ANNUAL OPERETTA, "H.M.S. Pinafore"

The Departments of Music and Drama of MCC have announced the presentation of the musical stage production "H.M.S. Pinafore". The Gilbert and Sullivan operetta will be presented on Friday and Saturday evening, February 24 and 25. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Admission is $1.00.

The cast of the delightful musical includes Brian Anderson of Muskegon as a common sailor named Ralph Rackstraw, Lorraine Cagle of Taylor as Josephine, the Captain's daughter; Carol Anderson of Dearborn Hts. is Little Buttercup and James Bruce of Bad Ave is cast as Captain Corcoran.

Others of the cast are Don Shepherd of Davison, Michigan, who plays the Rt. Hon. Sir Joseph Porter, K.C.B.; Janice Allen of Pontiac as Cousin Hebe; David Case of Birmingham as Dick Deadeye; Wayne Narey of Silver Springs, Md. as Bill Bobstay; and David Rimer of Rochester as Bob Beckett.

"H.M.S. Pinafore" is a humorously delightful plot unfolding with an air of confusion and folly around the love affairs of Josephine and Little Buttercup.

The public is invited.

modeling of the equipment room, was done by students with the help and under the direction of Mr. Downey. The equipment room is a maze of electronic devices with all kinds of connections available by means of "jacks" and "jumpers" to make full use of the recording and listening equipment.

This is a fine addition to the Fine Arts Department and to the general academic development of the college.

At 8 p.m. that evening, the curtain rises on the annual operetta presentation by the Music and Drama Departments. This year's production is Gilbert and Sullivan's "H.M.S. HACKETT'S ART RECEIVES INTERNATIONAL ATTENTION

Richard Hackett, Art teacher at MCC, is receiving international attention for the new painting surface he has been developing since 1960. His paintings are all done on curved panels in lines of bright color with occasional cutout additions.

Described as a "cool intellectual painter" by art critics, Hackett uses the painted built-up forms and resulting shadows to give flexibility and change to his works.

In April of 1966, his one-man show of painting and sculpture was on exhibit at the Gertrude Kasle Gallery in the Fisher Building. His creations have appeared in several art and sculpture shows, receiving wide acclaim from viewers and critics alike. In a recent show in November, Hackett received the Louis G. Redstone Architects, Inc. prize for an original approach to content or technique in sculpture. Award was made at an Awards Banquet preceding the opening of the 56th Exhibition for Michigan Artists in the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Professor Hackett is a graduate of Harding College and the Cranbrook Academy of Art. In addition to his teaching at MCC he has served as the art consultant for the Bloomfield Hills school system. He has recently resigned the latter position to give attention to a private business relating to painting and sculpture.
