Growth in enrollment marks spring semester

Compared to a 24% increase in the fall enrollment last September, Michigan Christian College has achieved a 30% increase in student population over the previous spring semester. Marking the smallest mid-year enrollment change since the early 1960's, the figure also represents the largest number of students to enroll for the spring semester since 1985.

Reflecting Michigan Christian College's move toward a greater number of four-year degree programs, the largest number of juniors and seniors in the college's history enrolled in classes for the spring semester. Both Florida and West Virginia joined the list of fifteen states and six foreign countries that were represented in the fall student body.

While current students enrolled in spring semester classes, Admissions personnel continued to work with individuals interested in entering Michigan Christian College next fall. After maintaining an application rate of more than 60% over the previous year for several months, the Admissions Office recently announced a priority date of June 1, 1993, for prospective students who desire admission, campus housing, and financial aid.

Admissions personnel are encouraging students who are considering enrollment next fall to complete admission and financial aid processes as quickly as possible to guarantee themselves a spot in the freshman class. Admission and financial aid information can be obtained by phoning the Admissions Office toll-free at 1-800-521-6010.

Human services degree majors planned for fall

Adding three more options at the bachelor's degree level, Michigan Christian College has finalized plans to begin offering new majors in psychology, sociology, and social work this fall. College officials made arrangements for the new majors while progressing toward final approval of the Bachelor of Business Administration degree.

In 1989, the college began offering a counseling major at the bachelor's degree level. Interest in this program, as well as the historically strong interest of MCC students in service-oriented careers, led to development of the three new majors.

Complementing the twenty-five psychology and sociology courses currently listed in the catalog, the faculty have outlined thirteen additional courses to support the new majors. They have projected such new courses as Psychology of Learning, Human Behavior and Social Environment, Physiological Psychology, Social Welfare and Public Policies I & II, Cultural Anthropology, and Sociological Theory.

Each of the new majors have been designed to include a strong foundation of liberal arts, Bible, and ethics courses. A required internship has been incorporated into the core of each major. Simultaneous to the addition of the human services majors, college officials completed, in February, a pivotal step toward final approval of the Bachelor of Business Administration degree. At that time, members of the State Board of Education's Committee of Scholars made their final visit to the campus.

Based upon their study of the proposed program, the Committee of Scholars decided to recommend to the State Board of Education that Michigan Christian College be granted permission to award the B.B.A. The state board is expected to act upon that recommendation this spring. In the meantime, college officials are completing the steps required to obtain program approval from the North Central Association.

Upon final approval of the B.B.A. degree, Michigan Christian College will offer twelve majors at the bachelor's level. Current religion majors include Bible, Christian ministry, missions and evangelism, and youth and family ministry. Counseling, psychology, social work, and sociology majors will train those interested in human services. Initial business majors will include general business, management, human resource management, and vocational ministries.

High school students from Indiana visit the campus as the college's enrollment continues to grow.

New four-year degree majors generate spirit of excitement

Dear Friends:

I wish each of you could personally experience the excitement that we feel on the campus as we move to expand academic programs at Michigan Christian College to include twelve different majors at the bachelor's level.

Thanks to many friends, employees, and former employees, who have sacrificed and labored during the last four decades, a very significant milestone is about to be reached by the college. Most of you who read the North Star have had an important role in laying the strong foundation on which we are now building.

Opportunities greater than any before are about to become a reality. Fulfilling a long-standing dream, the privilege to serve students in a wider range of four-year programs will challenge all of our employees and bring a fresh spirit to the institution. We will go where we have never been able to go. We will become what we heretofore have only dreamed of becoming.

Already, the impact on the college is being felt. New faculty are being hired, different curricula are being designed, office space is being reshaped to accommodate a larger and more diverse student body than MCC has ever had.

I'm grateful to each individual who has believed in this dream, who has known the price, and who has shared through the years in keeping this hope alive. Our prayer is that the process will finally be completed by late spring or early summer. We'll keep you posted.

Mark your calendar for MCC's May 1 graduation ceremony. Plans are being finalized for a delightful program to honor a group that includes the largest number of seniors ever to graduate from MCC in one year. Shortly following the mid-day conclusion of graduation, you can join us at Cobo Hall for a great evening of fellowship and entertainment at the annual Partnership Dinner. Please plan to be a part of P.D. XXII!

Sincerely,

President

Kenneth L. Johnson

Degree option added for full-time ministers

Recognizing the validity of vocational experience and course work completed in a variety of academic settings, Michigan Christian College has developed a new degree option for those individuals engaged in full-time ministry. Through this versatile new program, ministers with at least five years of full-time experience in the ministry may complete the Bachelor of Religious Education degree at Michigan Christian College while continuing their normal responsibilities.

The program features a minimal residency requirement. Only eighteen credit hours must be taken through Michigan Christian College, and only six of those eighteen hours require presence on the campus. Special weeklong seminars have been planned by the college to compress the six on-campus hours into a manageable time-frame for those living far from the campus.

Students entering the new program may receive up to fifty semester hours of credit for work earned at other accredited colleges and universities. With the exception of English proficiency, such students may waive the general education requirements when transferring at least forty-eight hours.

In addition, entering students may receive up to sixty semester hours of credit for training received in schools of preaching. Vocational experience also can be translated into life-experience credit under this program.

Making the program as flexible as possible, concentrations can be developed within the B.R.E. degree to suit a student's individual history, interest, training, and experience. Ministers may phone Rodney Ashlock, instructor of Bible and program coordinator, at (313) 650-6074, for more program information.

Participating in their first national tournament, the soccer team took fourth place at the NSCAA finals in Nebraska. Brent Cramp of Meaford, Ontario, was named All-American.

VOLLEYBALL

CROSS COUNTRY

Both the men's and the women's cross country teams took second place at the NSCAA national cross country meet in New Ulm, Minnesota. Michigan students Shannon Cameron of Clio; Dan Durham of Belleville; Jenny Jolly of St. Clair, and Sara Light of Auburn Hills, received All-American honors.

BASKETBALL

Shelly Smith of Warren, Michigan, broke the MCC record in average game points during the women's basketball season. The men's team concluded their season as co-champions of the Great Lakes Conference of the NSCAA.

Employee Highlights

Retiring piano instructor Bernard Leshley will present a farewell recital on April 25, 1993, at 3:00 p.m. in the Westside Central Chapel. Except for a brief period from 1971-1974, the adjunct faculty member has taught piano lessons for Michigan Christian College students since 1964. He also has provided background music for all of the graduation exercises during that same period of time. The recital is open to everyone. More information may be obtained by phoning Larry Stewart at (313) 650-6013.

Serving as keynote speaker for the Lorain County Lectureship, Dr. Mel Storm, chairman of the Bible Department, spoke on five occasions at the annual event in Elyria, Ohio.

Dr. Ken Johnson, president, and Jim Truex, admissions counselor, each taught classes at the Michigan Youth Conference on March 11-13. Jim Calkin, admissions counselor, led singing for the annual event, which normally attracts over 1,000 people.

Renovations improve usage of Gallaher Center

Depending upon the era individual students attended Michigan Christian College, they remember the upper west wing of Gallaher Center as either the location for chapel, the library, student housing, classroom space, the Bible Room, or most recently the computer room. However, semester break provided an opportunity for the maintenance staff to transform the area into a very functional set of offices.

During the holiday period, workers divided the former ball-room of the Maxon estate into seven offices, surrounding a central secretarial pool. As carpet installers finished their work, administrative personnel began moving into the area, linking the President's Office, Development Office, Public Relations Office, and Business Office into a more efficient network.

Upon completion of the administrative offices, workers proceeded down the hall, transforming the former estate kitchen and living room into a more functional office and work area for the Business Office.

Commenting on the changes, Dr. Ken Johnson stated, "After only one month in the new arrangement, we can already identify productivity increases and smoother flow of documentation and essential communication."

In addition to providing a more functional link between administrative offices that interact on a daily basis, rearrangement of the building opened certain areas for other critical needs. By the time the remainder of the building renovations are completed this coming summer, a gain of approximately ten offices will be realized. Tentative plans call for a counseling center and faculty offices to occupy the remaining open areas.

Library receives solid state review

Following a January 20 visit to the campus, Suzanne Frankie, dean of the library at Oakland University, submitted her final report to the Michigan Department of Education, addressing the college's ability to support the proposed Bachelor of Business Administration degree with library resources. Dean Frankie stated, "I believe that the college has made satisfactory progress in addressing our concerns ... regarding collections, staffing, services, and space allocation."

Since initiating the process required to add a business degree, the college has made significant strides in strengthening library resources. Both in 1987 and in 1992, the college engaged consultants, who helped develop comprehensive plans for growth of the business library.

Surpassing recommendations of the first consultant that the library should add 1,000 business monographs and 70 reference works to initially support the B.B.A., the college has added over 1,800 volumes to the business collection. During the same period, the library subscribed to twenty-seven new business periodicals, and introduced on-line computer reference services with the InfoTrac Academic Index.

Over the past five years, the college also reorganized space within the library to accommodate growth of the business collection. As noted by Dr. Frankie, "The college has completed significant renovation and reorganization of the library, which is now a most attractive facility. However, she also noted, "In the near future the college will need to plan for some additional space, due to the fact that the stack ar $eas for the {\it circulating collections}$ have virtually no more room for additional growth.

Most recently, the library finalized arrangements with several local college and university libraries, giving students reciprocal borrowing privileges. This valuable new program will supplement the resources available on campus, while further growth takes place.

Christian Christian

Christians going out into the world? Surely not! The world is too bad a place for Christians to go. It just doesn't seem right.

But, yes! That is precisely where God wants His children to be. It has always been that way. For millennia, God's wish has been for His children to bless the world with their presence, their service, and their communication. In every age, God ministers to the nations of the world through His children.

Each of us who believes knows our responsibility to be His legs, His hands, His voice. Life presents each of us with a unique context and a special set of opportunities to serve in the Kingdom. At Michigan Christian College, we have the opportunity to help mold the next generation of believers. Teaching young men and women to become responsible servants in the Kingdom while they prepare for careers in the world is an awesome challenge. And that is our task.

Please continue to pray for our faculty, that in the midst of quality academics, they will integrate the true quality that gives meaning and purpose to life in this world.

At a Glance

Combining talents for a community presentation, the MCC A Cappella Chorus, the Rochester Community Chorus, and the Rochester Symphony Orchestra recently performed a classical work by Vivaldi. In a Rochester Eccentric review of the concert, writer Thomas Blue stated, "Another highlight was the presence of the chorus of Michigan Christian College. The chorus commanded a richness in tone quality and a well-blended sound that was consistent throughout the work." Joe Bentley, assistant professor of music at MCC, directs both choral groups.

During the holiday season, social club representatives presented a $1,400 check to the family of a four-year old cancer victim from Alpena. Last academic year, two clubs assisted with gifts and moral support. All of the clubs decided to join efforts this year in a continuing effort to encourage the family.

Honors Composition students recently participated in a writing seminar with nationally-acclaimed author Charles Ferry. A month later, the class visited Gale Research, the leading publisher of library reference materials in the United States. The students met with editors from several divisions, learning how the company operates, and about career opportunities in the field of publishing. Gale personnel also demonstrated new products in the field of electronic publishing.

1992 Donors to MCC

Donors continued to rally in support of Michigan Christian College during the 1992 calendar year, as 2,424 individuals and organizations provided $676,422 in gift income. Gift income usually underwrites approximately 20% of the operational budget for the year.

Many individuals made it possible for MCC to receive additional support from their employers, as noted on page 5. Gifts from 20 churches accounted for $15,150 of the gift income. Most of those gifts were given to support instruction and scholarships in the Bible Department. The remainder were donations to the travel funds of groups like the chorus and Autumn.

Michigan Christian College salutes the good people and organizations listed on these two pages for their confidence in Christian education. Regardless of their gift size, each donor helped provide the support necessary for the college to continue training leaders for the church of the 21st century.

Utley again leads board

Returning to a role he filled from 1980 to 1985, Bob Utley, president of Utley Brothers, Inc., recently began another tenure as chairman of the Board of Trustees of Michigan Christian Although Bob and his wife, Mary, have been active supporters of the college since its inception. Bob became a member of the board in 1975. He has served the board as secretary, and as a member of the executive, institutional planning, and presidential search committees.

Between the tenures of the fourth and fifth presidents of the college, Bob served as interim president during the closing months of 1980. Since that time, he has had four grandchildren attend MCC.

Other officers assuming new leadership roles with the Board of Trustees include Howard Hagerman, second vice-chairman, and Jack Duty, secretary. Robert Seccombe completes the slate of current officers by continuing in his position as first vice-chairman.

Planned Giving Matters

On this journey between birth and death, all of us who belong to Him are called to responsible stewardship. For every one of us, the challenge to stewardship is unique. And that challenge changes with each passing generation.

As we mature, deep inside our heart of hearts, all of us want to be good stewards. But very soon we learn that being good stewards requires a lot of thought. Whether planning one's Sunday offering or drafting one's final Will and Testament, careful consideration of alternative avenues to stewardship can create attractive and unique ways to bless the Kingdom's work while at the same time providing security for the duration of the journey.

Many friends of Michigan Christian College have drafted formal plans for gifts to MCC out of their final estates. Other friends have chosen to make substantial gifts late in life, with an income interest retained by the donor until death.

We can help you evaluate your opportunities for stewardship. Please call my office at (313) 650-6011 for a confidential appointment in your home or on our campus.

Thank you for believing in Michigan Christian College.

College personnel installed new vertical blinds in the Associates Campus Center lobby during the semester break. The Associates purchased the blinds through the Bill Knapp's Community Support Program. Redemption slips may be sent to Margaret Hadfield at 6038 Fenton, Dearborn Heights, MI 48127.

Student volunteers Jeff Clark of Berkley; Tammy Rigsby of Oregon, Ohio; and Michele Godmere of Auburn Hills, led their peers with the largest amounts raised during the annual Phone-a-Visit.

Silverdome volunteers raised $25,836.08 during the past home season of the Detroit Lions. The Associates, under the leadership of Susan Kowalski, a former MCC student, provided workers for the souvenir booths in exchange for a percentage of sales.

MCC Needs

The following needs could be met by donations of serviceable equipment:

Alumni businessmen lead fund drive

Two Rochester businessmen, Roger Knapp and William Potere, Jr., recently received recognition in chapel for their assistance in raising funds on behalf of Michigan Christian College. The two men targeted their efforts among the local community in an effort to raise funds for improvements in the college's gymnasium.

In their fund appeal, Knapp and Potere referred to the many youth from the area who have benefited from the college's programs. They told of hundreds who have participated in summer basketball camps on campus, and many who have played on the college's intercollegiate

Roger Knapp attended MCC during the 1959-60 pioneer year. Until recently, he served as the mayor of Rochester. He and his family have operated restaurants in the Rochester area for several years. Bill Potere, who attended MCC in 1963-64, is the former owner of a local funeral home and printing business.

Dr. Ken Johnson presents plaques to Roger Knapp and Bill Potere.

Former student designs official logo for college

Following a design contest among alumni, students, and friends, Michigan Christian College has adopted a new logo. The final artwork for the symbol, designed and drawn by David Fields, a 1965 graduate of Michigan Christian College, depicts the evergreen trees that characterize the campus.

Already, brochures, certificates, stationary, envelopes, and numerous other items from the campus have displayed the attractive new design. It also has been incorporated into the masthead of the current issue of the North Star.

After completing degrees at Michigan Christian College and Harding University, David Fields returned to MCC to teach art and serve as director of student life from 1968 until 1971. Since that time, he has worked for the United States Postal Service in Bedford, Indiana, and continued using his talent as a free-lance artist. He is co-founder and president of Bratovich and Fields, Inc., a graphic arts firm.

As MCC Artist of the Year in 1986, David created a beautiful painting of the barns located behind the president's house. The painting currently hangs in the newly renovated administrative wing of Gallaher Center.

David and his wife, the former Linda Sanderson, have sent three children to Michigan Christian College. A fourth is currently a high school student. In addition, two of David's brothers and one sister attended MCC. He also serves as an elder of the Central Church of Christ in Bedford.

To this day, David attributes his interests to the "excellent Bible study, relationships, and study in art" that he experienced at Michigan Christian College.
