ABOUT US

Serving Southeast Michigan

DALNET is a multi-type library consortium located in South-east Michigan. Founded as a nonprofit corporation in 1985, DALNET enables its members to better serve the information needs of their users through cooperative efforts.

healthcalendar.org is a project developed by the medical libraries of DALNET. This cooperative participation enables DALNET librarians to continue to deliver quality services to the communities they serve.

The project is funded through an Ameritech Foundation grant awarded the Friends of the Detroit Public Library.

healthcalendar.org offers health related organizations the opportunity to list conferences, support group meetings, and other events that are planned for public participation.

healthcalendar.org can be used to:

- avoid scheduling conflicts
- identify events to attend
- serve as an agency information access point for staff and clientele

Once registered, agency staff can enter all appropriate event information. No special skills are needed.

Each agency is responsible for maintaining their own information. There is no charge for this service.

Searching the Calendar

Users can search the calendar by agency name, date, county and keyword. Links to agencies' Web sites can also be created.
