MCC Warrior Basketball Team wins its first NLCAA National Championship

The Michigan Christian College Warrior Basketball Team left for the National Little College Athletic Association (NLCAA) National Tournament on March 5. In the opening game, the Warriors beat Draughtons College, of Knoxville, Tennessee, 95-86. MCC then entered the quarter finals against Dyke College, of Cleveland, Ohio. Trailing by a point with 9:46 left in the game, the Warriors moved ahead to beat Dyke, 120-97.

Entering the semi-finals against the tournament's number one seeded team, Mt. Senario, the Warriors found themselves in a defensive struggle. The half-time score saw Mt. Senario with a 46-32 lead. The Warriors' intense style, however, enabled them in the final minutes to take a 69-58 victory.

MCC entered the final game of the tournament, on March 10, against St. Scholastica, of St. Paul, Minnesota. The Saints started off with a quick 8-0 lead, and, just before the half, the Warriors found themselves trailing 21-17. In the next six minutes, MCC's team pulled ahead to take a 34-24 half-time lead. During the second half, the Warriors moved into a 20-point lead, finishing the Championship game with a winning score of 88-56.

"The MCC Men's Basketball Team set four goals for the 1988-89 season," stated Coach Garth Pleasant. "The team wanted a 20-win season, a conference championship, a district title, and a national championship." In February, the Warriors beat Jordan College, of Detroit, Michigan, 95-83, gaining the North Central District Tournament title and a berth in the National Finals. Having now completed their 25-3 season with a National Championship, the Warriors have realized each of the goals they set for themselves.

Providing leadership and continuity throughout the entire season were co-captains Eric Vaughn and Troy Rusnell. Vaughn, a 6'1" sophomore guard from Saginaw, Michigan, led his team in rebounding 7.4 points per game. He averaged 19.9 points, and 8.2 assists. He also shot 48% from the three-point range. Vaughn was selected to the NLCAA All American Team for his performance during the year, and was voted MVP of the National Tournament. "Eric is a bright young man who has a very good understanding of the game," stated Coach Pleasant. "He has the best hands of any player I've ever coached. I believe Eric will be a fine Division I or II player during the next two years."

Co-Captain, Eric Vaughn, speaks with Channel 7's John Gross about the Warriors' NLCAA National Championship, as the rest of the team looks on.

Troy Rusnell, a 6'2" forward from Lake Orion, Michigan, also played a key role in guiding the Warriors toward their first National Championship. Rusnell averaged 15.7 points per game, with 5.7 rebounds. He also shot 57% from the field, and was an NLCAA Central District 1st Team selection. About this player Coach Pleasant stated, "Troy was an integral part of our success this season, with an intense style of play. Certainly he was an outstanding player and leader, but more importantly he is an outstanding citizen."

Dwayne Tubbs, a 5'10" freshman guard from Ypsilanti, Michigan, led the team in scoring. Tubbs displayed outstanding skill with 26 points per game for the National Tournament, and a 22.7 points-per-game average for the year. He also averaged 5 assists and 3.4 steals per game. "Dwayne is one of the best scorers I've ever coached," stated Pleasant. "He has excellent defensive skills that are overshadowed by his scoring ability." Tubbs was an NLCAA North Central District 1st Team selection, and was chosen for the All Tournament Team.

The third player in an explosive three-guard offense, besides Vaughn and Tubbs, was 5'8" freshman Willie Maull, of Romulus, Michigan. Pleasant stated about Maull, "He's one of the most intense players I've ever had. There's no way you can measure the size of a kid's heart." Another freshman, 6'2" Anthony Foster of Valdosta, Georgia, rounded out an aggressive starting line-up.

Additional players on the Warrior Team were sophomores Chris Bies, of LaSalle, Michigan; and Keith Strickland, of Detroit, Michigan. Completing the team were the following freshmen: Jeff Harde- man, of Mt. Clemens, Michigan; Scott Raby, of Pontiac, Michigan; Todd Speaks, of Lake Orion, Michigan; and Dan Wallace, of Rochester, Michigan.

The Warriors, a team comprised of sophomores and freshmen, faced many four-year colleges with older, more experienced players. Consistently playing on their great strengths of extreme quickness and the ability to shoot three-pointers well, however, the team was able to realize a dream Pleasant has had for Michigan Christian College since he began coaching 11 years ago. Coach Pleasant best summed up the excitement at Michigan Christian, following the National Tournament, when he stated, "Whoever wins the NCAA won't be any more thrilled than we are right now. We know we're not the NCAA, but this is ours."

Freshman guard, Dwayne Tubbs, performs another successful layup shot.

Message from the President

Dear Friends:

In 1982, Michigan Christian College officially established an Estate Planning Program, sometimes referred to as a Planned Gifts Program. The program involves the institution's dealing with individuals and families in an advisory capacity, so as to encourage them to plan the distribution of their estates. This planning emphasizes what the client wants to accomplish with his or her estate; how one may do his or her best in terms of tax savings and in the use of various techniques such as the Last Will and Testament; Charitable Remainder Trusts; Annuity Trusts, Gift Annuities, etc. Michigan Christian College has people on staff who have received special training in the techniques, who, in consultation with you, your attorneys, accountants, insurance advisors, and bank trust officers, make recommendations based on the individual's particular estate goals. We always urge that our recommendations be examined by one's attorney and C.P.A.

Also in 1982, the Michigan Christian College Heritage Club was organized for the purpose of recognizing and honoring those thoughtful individuals who include Michigan Christian College in their estate plans. We encourage people to think in terms of this type of long range planning; however, our philosophy has always been "if it isn't a good deal for the client, it isn't a good deal for Michigan Christian College." Membership in the Heritage Club is available to individuals and families who have made a non-contingent provision to benefit Michigan Christian College in their estate plans. In recognition of such a provision, the College awards a beautiful wall plaque to the donor. Also, Heritage Club members are invited annually by the President to a dinner honoring them on Wednesday evening of the annual Bible Lectureship. At this writing, we have identified 69 family units as members of the Michigan Christian College Heritage Club.

If you have included Michigan Christian College in your estate plans but have not notified the College, you are encouraged to do so with as much detail as you feel is comfortable for you. If your provision is non-contingent, you will be added to the list of distinctive Heritage Club members.

If you would like for a Michigan Christian College representative to visit with you about your estate plan, please contact my office at 313/651-5800 or write me at 800 West Avon Road, Rochester Hills, Michigan 48063. If you have already included Michigan Christian College in your estate plans, let us enroll you in the Heritage Club!

Very sincerely,

Milton B. Fletcher
President

Members of MCC's Phi Beta Lambda are officially inducted into the business club at the March 28 Chartering Ceremony.

MCC charters first Phi Beta Lambda business club in Michigan

Along with other signs of growth and development on the campus of Michigan Christian College, a group of students have formed the first Phi Beta Lambda business club chapter in Michigan. The group, officially chartered in March of 1989, comprises 25 Business students, and is supervised by an Advisory Board of Business faculty which includes Mrs. Barbara Cole, Ms. Maureen Foglesong, Dean Birgie Houston, Dr. John Todd, Mr. Kent Wieb, and the club's sponsor, Mrs. Katheryn Wilkins.

Billy Blake, a junior Accounting major from Littleton, Colorado, serves as President of the new club. Jim Craig, a junior Finance major from Morenci, Michigan, fills the position of Vice-President. Additional officers include Lisa King, a Computer Information Systems major from Southgate, Michigan, serving as Secretary; Dereka Smith, a Marketing/Management major from Dayton, Ohio, serving as Treasurer; Randy Haynes, a General Business major from Bellwood, Illinois, filling the position of Historian; and Debbie Workman, a Computer Information Systems major from Ashland, Ohio, serving as Parliamentarian.

Members of Phi Beta Lambda meet weekly to discuss activities involving each of the organization's committees. Tony Burns, a General Business major from Lake Orion, Michigan, is Chairman of the Membership Committee. He organizes chapel announcements and presentations, and controls the club's Information Board. In charge of the Program Committee is Ronda Black, a Legal Assistant major from Flushing, Michigan. She plans special programs for the organization's meetings, and she was in charge of organizing the March 28 formal Chartering Ceremony. Mark Johnson, a General Business major from Union City, Michigan, is Chairman of the Community Services Committee. This group is currently formulating a project which will help provide food for some of the Detroit area's homeless. The Business Liaison Committee Chairman, Veronica Mott, is a General Business major from Detroit, Michigan. She is currently working with local businesses to organize field visits and future internships for Business majors.

Additional committees include the Public Relations Committee, chaired by Darrell Amy, a General Business major from Ontario, Canada; the Publications Committee, chaired by Randy Haynes; the Student Center Store Committee, chaired by John Lupanoff, a Marketing major from Midland, Michigan; and the Employment Service Committee, chaired by Amber Riffle, a Legal Assistant major from Rockford, Illinois. Also part of the organization are the International Marketing Committee, chaired by Duncan Alney, a General Business major from Calcutta, India; the Michigan Corporate News Committee, chaired by Mya Manciel, a Legal Assistant major from Detroit, Michigan; the Governmental Affairs Committee, chaired by Rob Perez, a General Business major from Wyoming, Michigan; and the General Fundraising Committee, chaired by Veronica Cobb, a General Business major from Drayton Plains, Michigan. Randy Haynes, Chairman of the Publications Committee, is writing a yearly newspaper and an annual report for the club.

Several members of Phi Beta Lambda will eventually participate in national competitions. Facets of the competition programs include accounting, business communications and decision-making, business law and principles, economics, computer concepts and applications, management, marketing, and impromptu speaking.

A field trip will encompass a day spent at the international port of Detroit. Students will tour a steel cargo ship, and learn how the customs process works. Trips planned for the 1989-90 school year are visits to a Ford Assembly Plant, the Chicago Board of Trade, and the Cincinnati Federal Reserve Bank.

Billy Blake, President of MCC's first Phi Beta Lambda business club, welcomes guests to the Chartering Ceremony.

Associates hold annual Spring Festival

On March 11, at 12:30 p.m., the Associates of Michigan Christian College held their annual Spring Festival. With Mrs. Beth Fisher serving as Chairman, members of the Brighton Chapter organized the event. The Festival featured a luncheon in the Cafeteria, and a fashion show held in the West-side Central Chapel.

Decorations for the luncheon were beautiful, paper daffodil baskets made by members of the Parkside Chapter. The menu included Hawaiian Chicken Salad, hard rolls, iced tea or coffee, and a choice of chocolate or white cake. Each of over 200 guests received favors of note paper, donated by the Brighton Chapter. To assist in underwriting the cost of the luncheon, donations were made by each chapter, along with donations of food from Meijers Thrifty Acres and Krogers.

Guests moved to the Chapel, at 1:45 p.m., for a fashion show of spring apparel presented by Caren Charles. Models included Mrs. Georgia Phillips, of the Gateway Chapter; Mrs. Mary Etta Whitelaw, of the Lincoln Park Chapter; Miss Kali Feltner, of the Pontiac Chapter; Mrs. Nola Cucheran, Mrs. Joyce Felzien, Mrs. Evelyn Fletcher, Miss Amy Harrison, Mrs. Patty Harrison, Mrs. Teresa Newsome, and Mrs. Lynne Stewart, all of the Rochester Chapter. Mrs. Norma Morris, of the Brighton Chapter, served as the background pianist for the event.

The Annual Bake Sale, organized by the Clawson Chapter, was held in conjunction with the Spring Festival. All profits of the Associates' projects will eventually be given to Michigan Christian College, through the Associates' annual project budgets.

Students Serve Seniors at community facilities

MCC students, in a practical sense, are finding many opportunities in which to share the spirit of the College with the Rochester Hills community. Rapid growth in the area surrounding the school has resulted in the opening of several new senior citizen facilities. Three of these unique housing complexes are visited regularly by student groups.

Each Monday evening a group of 15-20 students, employees, and other Christian adults meet at the Avondale Convalescent Home to sing with the "Seniors" well-loved hymns such as "The Old Rugged Cross," and "Amazing Grace." Many Seniors, unable to leave the nursing center, enjoy this contact with the students. Separated from parents and grandparents, students benefit from the contact with the Seniors. One 78-year-old male resident of Avondale, who is confined to a wheelchair, is a talented musician. Following a devotional, he wheeled himself to the piano and entertained students with a concert of rag-time and jazz. Students usually receive a hug from each nursing center resident present at a devotional, before leaving.

hotel, is a senior housing complex made up of independent apartment living, assisted care, and total care units. Through a program sponsored by the Rochester Church of Christ, students attend a Sunday afternoon worship service with the Seniors. Male students are encouraged to lead and assist in the service. In conjunction with a mid-week morning Bible class, the program has grown from five participating Seniors to over

25. Mr. William Crane, a resident of the Inn, was baptized through this outreach effort, and has been able to worship with his Christian family at the Rochester Church. Officials at Peachwood were so encouraged by this weekly, inspirational program for their residents that they asked leaders of the Rochester congregation to begin holding services at Cherrywood Inn, a similar facility managed by the same organization as is Peachwood.

Directly across the road from the College is a new multi-care facility called Mercy Bellbrook. Executive Officers of the Student Body Association are encouraging participation in a weekly visitation program they've begun at this facility.

Service and community responsibility are taught in the classroom at MCC. Students themselves, however, have shown the concern and willingness it takes to make theory a practicality.

MCC students help spread the gospel in foreign fields and at home

Michigan Christian College has been a participant in the mission effort to provide Christian education for the Midwest, since late 1959. On a daily basis, administrators, faculty and staff renew their mission to train young people academically in a spiritual atmosphere. In keeping with this spiritual emphasis, a club exists on campus which provides students the opportunity to share their faith in a practical way. The Mission Emphasis Team, a group of ten to twenty college students, organizes weekend campaigns in areas of Michigan where the Lord's Church needs additional support and encouragement.

Members of this year's Mission Emphasis Team met on a weekly basis to discuss plans for their mini-campaigns, and to prepare materials necessary to work with children, ranging in age from three to twelve. During the first of their double-weekend campaigns, these students helped members of the sponsoring congregation advertise the events which would take place the following weekend. Returning to the same congregation the next weekend, MCC students taught classes, supervised Bible Learning Centers, and led devotionals for the participating children.

Under the supervision of Dean of Students, Garth Pleasant, Miss June Hendrick, a 1983 graduate of MCC, was asked to coordinate the logistics of the Mission Emphasis program. During the summers of 1984, 1985, and 1987, she worked with German campaign efforts using the "Let's Start Talking" study series. Designed by a missionary, this series enabled teams of four to six people to work with foreign congregations of the Lord's Church in reaching the lost. "Missionaries to Germany found doorknocking, and similar methods, to be ineffective in a country where people highly value their privacy," stated Miss Hendrick. "Europeans are easier to get to know and share the gospel with on an individual basis. What we offered them directly was the opportunity to practice speaking their newly-learned English. What we offered them indirectly was a look into God's Word."

Campaign team members worked with two to three German natives each day, for a period of six weeks. Daily lessons consisted of conversations with a student, using the Bible as a text. "As a general rule, Germans see religion as a form of social interaction, and not as a personal relationship with a divine being," stated Miss Hendrick. "We told our students, beforehand, that the Bible would be the text in these conversational classes, but they didn't think it would really have an effect on them. They simply wanted to better their English-speaking skills. Many Germans have no concept of a God, or of the eternal life He offers. Evolvement of this concept in their minds is a slow process. Germans will not quickly commit to something they don't really understand. Once German natives can be convinced of the reality of God's word, their whole lives are changed and they are very zealous and committed to their Saviour."

Miss Hendrick is currently part of a team of six individuals, some of whom participated in the College's Mission Emphasis program, who will teach the "Let's Start Talking" series in Germany, this summer. Team members Victor Bliss, Laura Day, Linda Sattison, Pete Sexton, and Karen Owen are presently undergoing twenty weeks of training to prepare them for their mission. Throughout these weekly sessions, they are learning how to converse with people of varied religious backgrounds, receiving instruction on how to solicit financial support, and filing for necessary documents such as a visa and a passport. Group members are also familiarizing themselves with the "Let's Start Talking" study guide method, becoming more aware of German cultural differences, and learning to better react to each other as a group.

As this year's Mission Emphasis Coordinator, Miss Hendrick wished to expose students to a variety of mission efforts taking place both in the United States and in foreign fields. In August, 1989, she will join a mission effort in Catacamas, Olancho, Honduras, for a period of two years. In addition to assisting in the delivery of medical supplies to people in outreaching areas, she will maintain records and statistics on a computer system at the campaign's headquarters office. Miss Hendrick sees this mission as an opportunity to use talents the Lord has given her to spread the message of His saving grace throughout various parts of the world. "The most important lesson I wanted to teach members of the Mission Emphasis Team," she states, "is that every Christian has at least one talent which can be used in meeting the needs of people, both from a different culture and from one's own neighborhood."

Vic Bliss tells a Bible story to one of the children at a Mission Emphasis teaching workshop.

Lady Warriors continue to grow into a stronger team

The 1988-89 Lady Warriors Basketball Team, coached by Mr. Kent Wieb, finished the season with a 5-15 record. "We are in the process of building a strong women's basketball program," stated Wieb. "This team won about the same percentage of games as last year, but each of this year's games were very close. With the possibility of four returning starters next year, and the potential for outstanding, new talent, we could turn this year's record around."

Leaders on the 1988-89 team included Susan Lambert, Paula Zink, Darcy Washburn, and Kathy Mason. Lambert, a 5'4" guard from Indianapolis, Indiana, was the leading scorer with a 15 point-per-game average. Paula Zink, a 5'11" freshman forward from Utica, Michigan, closely followed Lambert with an average of 12 points per game. Darcy Washburn, a freshman guard from Washington, Michigan, averaged 4 assists per game; and Kathy Mason, a freshman forward from North Canton, Ohio, averaged 3 assists.

Also part of the Lady Warrior Team were sophomores Laura Baker, of Columbus, Ohio; Jami

Dye, of Washington Court House, Ohio; Sherry Hall, of Cutler, Ohio; and Julie Vaughn, of Clio, Michigan. Completing the team were freshmen Marcy Hall, of Flint, Michigan; Traci Spencer, of South Lyon, Michigan; and Pam Zink, of Utica, Michigan.

The highlight game, according to Wieb, came during the middle of the season, when the Lady Warriors played and beat William Tyndale College, 96-22. "The Cincinnati Bible Tournament was also a highlight," said Wieb, "because we had more hustle, made a greater percentage of our shots, and improved our technique with each game." Wieb looks forward to an excellent season next year, and continued growth in this athletic program.

Library adds computer indexing for major information sources

Knowledge Index, an online computer service that provides access to information from millions of references in over 30,000 journals, recently began operation in the Muirhead Library of Michigan Christian College. The service provides access to over seventy of the major databases available from Dialog Information Services, the world's leading online information service.

Although Knowledge Index includes databases in such areas as chemistry, computers, education, engineering, law, mathematics, medicine, psychology, and social sciences, the service is being added for the extensive base of information that it will provide for students in MCC's expanding business program. It includes trends and news in national and international business, economic research, information on key business leaders, and corporate statistics on the nation's leading public and private companies.

MCC business majors compete in national stock market game

Front cover headlines of Inc. Magazine referred to the First Annual AT&T Collegiate Investment Challenge as "the hottest business game in town." Changing Times described the program as "an education that often costs would-be millionaires a lot more in the hard-knock school of investing."

Some 11,000 college students participated in the Challenge on a nationwide basis, including two MCC juniors, Billy Blake of Littleton, Colorado and Jim Craig of Morenci, Michigan. Each student received a fictitious $500,000 brokerage account, a toll-free number to a brokerage firm, and the challenge to maximize the value of their portfolio by buying and selling from the stocks of over 5,000 publicly traded companies.

At the end of each month, participants received a personal account statement, newsletter, and ranking of participants. Of the 11,000 participants, twenty-two increased their portfolio by a million dollars or more during the four-month Challenge. Both MCC students increased their portfolio by some half-million dollars!

Students "Celebrate the 50 States" in this year's musical extravaganza

On February 17-18, 1989, under the direction of A Cappella Chorus Director, Joe Bentley, and drama coach, Gale Edwards, MCC students presented the annual musical extravaganza, "Celebration in Song." This year's production followed the theme "Celebrate the 50 States," and individual club themes included "The Wild West," "The Good Old Days," and "We Wanna Go Home." Months of planning and preparation evolved into a delightful evening of colorful costumes, upbeat musical selections, and outstanding dramatic talent.

The Celebration Singers, a group made up of A Cappella Chorus members and other students, began the show with a selection of songs about the United States. These students later sang a Stephen Foster medley, and closed their part of the program with the country-music selection, "God Bless the U.S.A."

Social club Alpha Beta/Beta Gamma, assigned the territorial theme of the West, described the American frontier spirit with such tunes as "Rawhide," and "It's a Brand New Life." An old-fashioned melodrama was also staged by club members, complete with a showdown between an ill-reputed villain and a good-natured hero. Later in their skit, club members portrayed modern life on the West Coast with imagery and musical selections from the California surfer lifestyle.

Delta Nu/Sigma Phi's skit enabled the audience to visualize a week in the deep, warm South. Anora Woods and David Christian portrayed grandparents explaining to their visiting grandchildren how good life used to be in states such as Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Virginia. The grandchildren encouraged the storytelling with their song "Grandma, tell me 'bout the good ol' days," and the grandparents responded with tales of their days in a traveling, Dixie-land jazz band.

Kappa Tau/Alpha Tau, the final club to perform, illustrated a ship of sailors who hailed from Northern states. Most were homesick, and nostalgically sang of great cities such as Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia, and Baltimore. Wearing matching costumes of white sailor hats, blue jeans, and khaki tee-shirts bearing the names of Northern states, Tau gave a fine performance of precision, energy, and excitement. Following the Saturday evening performance, Academic Dean, Dr. Leonard Knight, presented Tau with the winning Celebration Trophy.

The 1989 "Celebration in Song" Hosts were Mark Brackney, of Attica, Michigan; and Jeff Westerby, of Troy, Michigan. Mark is a junior B.R.E. Major, who plans to complete his degree requirements in 1990. He then plans to enroll in the graduate level Bible program at Abilene Christian University. Jeff will receive his B.R.E. degree in May, 1989, and enroll at Harding Graduate School of Religion the following Fall semester. He hopes to eventually teach Bible at a Christian college.

Hostesses were Ady Hutchins, of Wellington, Ohio; and Julie Wilson, of Rochester, Indiana. Ady is a sophomore Music Major, who plans to finish her education at Eastern Michigan University, and teach music at the high school level. Julie is a sophomore Office Information Systems Major, who will receive her A.A.S. degree in May, 1989 and seek employment as an Executive Secretary.

The Hosts and Hostesses performed short, musical skits between social club performances. Selections included a steamboat quartet, complete with straw hats and elastic-arm bands, singing "Dixieland Jamboree;" canalmen and their faithful mules singing about sacrifices made on the "Erie Canal;" a humorous gunfight between a notorious villain and "Cow Patti;" and an afternoon on the porch, reminiscing about "Old Sue's Panda." The group finished the Second Act with the inspirational song "The Hope for America," and led the Celebration Singers in "God Bless the U.S.A." The entire cast surrounded the audience, at the close of the program, and sang the show's traditional theme song, "Celebrate."

Also part of the weekend's festivities was the annual "Celebration Saturday," an event coordinated by the Admissions Office for high school students. The day included Registration and a continental breakfast, performances by the A Cappella Chorus and Autumn, college career counseling, campus tours, and a matinee of "Celebration in Song." Youth Leaders interested in bringing a group to next year's "Celebration Saturday" should contact Mr. Larry Stewart, Director of Admissions, at 1-800-872-2579 (Michigan), or 1-800-521-6010 (Outstate).

The Celebration Singers remind the audience that "Life is a Celebration."

Performers in the Alpha Beta/Beta Gamma Celebration skit wonder if they will ever tame the "Wild, West."

Members of Kappa Tau/Alpha Tau, winners of the Celebration Trophy, perform a skit about life in the northern United States.

Delta Nu/Sigma Phi club members sing of the "good ol' days" down in the deep South.

Christine Campbell is crowned 1989 Homecoming Queen

Festivities for the 1989 Homecoming began with a "Spirit Week," in which students wore outfits in keeping with various entertaining themes. On February 3, in the Gold Room of the Associates Campus Center, members of the Alumni Association hosted a pizza party, honoring the 1989 Homecoming Court.

Registration and a morning devotional, held in the Westside Central Chapel on February 4, began the Homecoming Day activities. Alumni Association President Phil McCullough presided over the brief service; and Stan Day, Minister for the Marshall, Michigan Church of Christ, led the guests in a closing prayer. A short performance by MCC's musical group, Autumn, completed the morning program. Members of this year's Autumn include Jeff Allen, Brian Cain, Jim Craig, Codie Johnson, James McDuffie, Karen Petrich, Debi Shauver, Don Smith, and Julie Wilson.

Homecoming Day festivities continued at the nearby Rochester High School gymnasium, at 12:30 p.m., where the Lady Warrior Basketball Team defeated Ft. Wayne Bible College, 67-57. At 2:30 p.m., the Warrior Basketball Team began their game against the University of Michigan-Dearborn, holding the team to a half-time score of 39-29.

Half-time activities began with short skits performed by several of the social clubs. Candlebearers then formed a pathway through which Homecoming Court attendants were escorted. Representing the Upper Division students, as Candlebearers, were Tim Mays, of Westland, Michigan; and Jeff Westerby, of Troy, Michigan. Sophomores included Reggie Best, of Detroit, Michigan; Brian Cain, of Amherst, Ohio; Phil Conner, of Gladwin, Michigan; and Randy Haynes, of Bellwood, Illinois. Finally, Freshman candlebearers were Darrell Amy, of West Montrose, Ontario; Sam Pace, of Lansing, Michigan; Rob Perez, of Wyoming, Michigan; and Robert Vazquez, of Detroit, Michigan.

Robin Stephens, of Riverview, Michigan served as the Homecoming Court Representative for the Upper Division students. She was escorted by Pete Sexton. Sophomore Queen Candidates included Laura Baker, of Columbus, Ohio, escorted by Scott Reece; Christine Campbell, of Southgate, Michigan, escorted by her brother, Eric; and Camille Jackson, of Detroit, Michigan, escorted by Willie Maull. Completing the Court were Freshman Representatives Gail Rathbun, of Lake Orion, Michigan, escorted by her father, Mr. Bob Rathbun; and Darcy Washburn, of Washington, Michigan, escorted by Andy Harrison.

The Homecoming audience waited with enthusiasm for the announcement of the 1989 Homecoming Queen by President Milton Fletcher. Christine Campbell was named Queen, and was presented her crown by Laura Day, the 1988 Homecoming Queen. President Fletcher awarded Christine the traditional red velvet cape and silk roses, and the new Queen led her Court to its place of honor in a special section of the gymnasium.

The Warriors went into the second half of the basketball game enthusiastically determined to gain a victory over their opponents. Staying at least 15 points ahead of the Dearborn team, throughout the entire second half, the Warriors soundly defeated the University of Michigan-Dearborn, 98-65.

The four faculty openings are in Business, Math, Office Information Systems, and Science. For further information regarding these openings, please write Dr. Leonard C. Knight, Academic Dean, Michigan Christian College, 800 West Avon Road, Rochester Hills, Michigan 48063 or call (313) 651-5800, extension 32. Mark Frost is the keynote speaker at MCC's Winter Banquet

On December 9, 1988, in the cafeteria of the Associates Campus Center, over 160 people attended the MCC Winter Banquet. Sponsored by the Sophomore Class, pictures were taken at 7:00 p.m. and dinner was served at 7:30 p.m. The menu, prepared and served by Marriott Foods, Inc., included cream of broccoli soup, a salad bar, fresh fruit, Chicken Cordon Bleu or Basket Shrimp, brown rice or corn, apple pie or chocolate mousse cake, and assorted beverages.

The Cafeteria was decorated in seasonal colors of red, green, gold, and white, with windows and doors disguised as large, wrapped packages. Red, gold, and green graffiti circles were splashed across the tables, accompanied by brightly-colored balloons. Candle centerpieces completed the array of decorations.

Jim Calkin, an MCC Admissions Counselor and Associate Minister for the Lake Orion Church of Christ, served as Emcee for the evening. President Milton Fletcher led the opening prayer, and Mark Frost, Minister for the Trenton, Michigan Church of Christ, served as the evening's Keynote Speaker.

Entertainment was provided by the Detroit-area gospel quartet known as "The Messengers." Group members included Dwight Coe, of Waterford, Michigan, baritone; Mike Corder, of Highland, Michigan, tenor; Mark Dillard, of Waterford, Michigan, lead; and Sonny Girdley, of Flint, Michigan, bass. The quartet performed a program of a cappella hymns and seasonal selections, and the banquet was concluded, at 9:30 p.m., with a prayer led by Sophomore Class President, Chris Bies.

Homecoming,

At 6:00 p.m. in the Cafeteria of the Associates Campus Center, alumni, students, employees, and guests gathered for a banquet served by Marriott Foods, Inc. He has served as Administrator, Coach, and Teacher in several school systems, and is presently in his eleventh year at Lockett Christian Academy, in Royal Oak, Michigan. Following the banquet and presentation, guests were invited to attend the "Company" performance of "That Was No Lady, That Was a Private Eye," in the Westside Central Chapel. MCC students assist in 1989 Salary Sharing Campaign

The 1989 Salary Sharing Campaign began in August of 1988 with an informational direct mailing. Also a part of Phase I of the Campaign was a mailing, distributed in September, which included a letter from President Milton Fletcher and a Pledge Response Card. Phase II of the Salary Sharing Campaign took place October 17-December 8, 1988, when students, employees, alumni, and friends of the College met three times weekly, in the Associates Gold Room, to assist in the annual "Phone-A-Visit" solicitation. The goal for this year's Salary Sharing Campaign was $230,000, and pledges received as of March 15, 1989 totalled $179,926.

Over sixty students participated in at least one evening of the "Phone-A-Visit" Phase, and fourteen of these students reached the goal of raising $1,000 in a single evening. Top student callers were Wendy Barnett, of Michigan City, Indiana, who raised a total of $5,280; and Lisa King, of Southgate, Michigan, who raised $4,040. Each of the "$1,000 Night Callers" were invited to a dinner hosted by President and Mrs. Fletcher at Bill Knapps Restaurant, in Rochester Hills. Special calling sessions were held, throughout "Phone-A-Visit," to encourage the participation of MCC alumni, Board of Trustee members, Associates, and individual congregations.

Miss Karen Owen, Administrative Assistant for the Development Office, will replace Mr. Kent Hoggatt, next year, as Coordinator for the Salary Sharing Campaign. Both she and Mr. Hoggatt express their appreciation to the many faithful supporters of Michigan Christian College. They, along with President Milton Fletcher, also thank first-time donors to the College. "Without these people," Mr. Hoggatt stated, "we wouldn't have the axis around which our institution revolves."

Spotlights

Ginny (Fidler) May

Ginny (Fidler) May graduated from Michigan Christian College with an AAS in 1978. Ginny went to work in May, 1978, as a secretary for American Motors. In December, 1979, she left American Motors to begin work at Michigan Christian College as Secretary to the Dean of Students and as a Dorm Supervisor for the Alma Gatewood Women's Dormitory. In June, 1984, she and her husband Ernie, moved out of the women's dormitory and into their new home. At that time, Ginny became Secretary to the President. She became Administrative Assistant to the President in 1986 and worked in that capacity until February 15, 1989, when she and Ernie made the great decision to adopt a child.

During the time at MCC as an employee, Ginny also served on a volunteer basis as Cheerleading Sponsor, W-Club Sponsor, and Homecoming Queen Court Coordinator.

As a busy volunteer, Ginny is Vice President of the Lake Orion Associates Chapter, secretary to the Lake Orion Church of Christ, and active in the Alumni Association. In 1987 she received an Appreciation Award from the Alumni Association Executive Committee for her very efficient handling of the Homecoming Queen's Court activities since 1980.

In genuine appreciation for her faithful years of service to MCC, President Fletcher stated, "Ginny May possesses unique qualities of unusual efficiency, organizational ability, love for the institution, capacity for hard work, and loyalty. We appreciate her many contributions to Michigan Christian College."

Gail Partridge

Gail Partridge was a student at Michigan Christian College from 1976-78, during which time she participated in Sigma Tau, Student Council, and W-Club activities. In the summer following her graduation from MCC, she became involved with the deaf ministry at the Bristol Road Church of Christ, in Flint, Michigan. Her interest in this program prompted her to take summer classes in sign language at Mott Community College. She so enjoyed working with the hearing impaired community that, in 1980, she transferred to Michigan State University to earn a bachelor's degree in the field of sign language interpretation.

Upon completion of her education, in 1983, Gail moved to Canada, where she worked as the sole interpreter for her county. In 1985, she received an offer to return to the United States and work as Coordinator for the Interpretive Services for the State of Michigan. Soon afterwards, she was appointed the Public Interpreter for Governor James A. Blanchard, a position she has held for the past four years.

Gail's duties within Michigan's Interpretive Services Office include publishing the DDD Bulletin, coordinating workshops for those interested in interpreting for the hearing impaired, and working with Michigan's State Legislature to help improve conditions for the deaf. Her position as the Governor's Public Interpreter entails extensive public visibility and contact with the media.
